About LASALLE College of the Arts

Asia's leading contemporary arts and design institution

LASALLE College of the Arts is the highest ranked specialist arts institution in Singapore and joint top in Southeast Asia for art and design (QS World University Rankings 2023).

The College offers 35 Diploma, BA (Hons) and postgraduate programmes in fine arts, design communication, interior design, product design, film, animation, fashion, dance, music, theatre, arts management, art histories, curatorial practices, arts pedagogy and practice, arts and cultural leadership, art therapy, music therapy, creative writing and arts and ecology.

LASALLE provides a nurturing, interdisciplinary learning environment to inspire the next generation of forward-looking, globally engaged artists, designers and leaders of creative industries. Its faculty is led by a community of award-winning artists, designers, educators and researchers, and their practice-led research sets LASALLE apart as an international centre of excellence.

Founded in 1984 by the late De La Salle Brother Joseph McNally – a visionary artist and educator – LASALLE is a non-profit private educational institution. The College receives tuition grant support from Singapore's Ministry of Education. LASALLE is a founding member of the University of the Arts Singapore.

About the University of the Arts Singapore

Transforming arts education, creating a better world

The University of the Arts Singapore (UAS) is Singapore's first arts university nurturing a new generation of forward-looking artists, designers, educators, researchers, arts leaders and changemakers.

UAS is founded on an alliance of Singapore's leading arts institutions, LASALLE College of the Arts (LASALLE) and Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts (NAFA).

Located in the heart of the arts and civic district, LASALLE and NAFA are distinguished by unique heritages, strong artistic traditions, and innovative teaching approaches. Our faculty and alumni have earned national recognition, including Cultural Medallions and Young Artist Awards, championing Singaporean creativity on the global stage.

UAS will generate new artistic thinking and discourse by creatively combining teaching, practice, and research. Collaborating with arts communities and industry partners locally and internationally, our graduates will energise the cultural landscape and the creative economy. We will strengthen Singapore as a creative hub in Asia.

Welcoming our first intake in 2024, LASALLE and NAFA will offer undergraduate and postgraduate programmes, with degrees awarded by UAS.

Welcome to a creative arts education like no other

LASALLE College of the Arts provides a supportive, progressive and truly inspiring environment for our students.

With a focus on nurturing creative expression, innovation and independence of thought, we encourage students to be inquisitive and original artists and designers. They become highly skilled, and excel both in their chosen specialisms and in their collaborations with practitioners from other disciplines.

The College prepares graduates for sustained and successful careers in the creative industries through a practice-based and industry-led pedagogy. It is a demanding and immersive learning experience guided by an outstanding international faculty, professional artists, and industry mentors.

We foster high-level creative skills, but allow students to assert their freedom to be different, and to chart imaginative new territories – and this is what prepares them for real and sustainable careers in the arts.

We offer an exceptional range of Diploma, BA (Hons) and MA programmes that is well respected in the global arts arena. With a strategic and central location in Singapore's cultural district, our award-winning, open campus provides a magnificent space and inspirational setting for study and creative exchange.

At LASALLE, we work continually to innovate in our teaching and research, and set new benchmarks in arts education. We believe in our students and their ability to be the pioneers who will help to define the future of contemporary arts practice.

As we embark on a new era as part of the University of the Arts Singapore, I look forward to welcoming you to our iconic city campus.

Professor Steve Dixon

President

LASALLE | University of the Arts Singapore

A truly immersive arts environment

As a leading contemporary arts institution, LASALLE's programmes testify to the power of the arts to communicate across cultures and geographies.

What sets us apart is having artists and students from different disciplines bring out the best of each other, in creative collaborations that spark inspirations and innovations. More importantly, this prepares our graduates for sustained and fulfilling careers in the creative industries.

With a vibrant campus calendar ranging from Open House to The LASALLE Show and jam packed with arts events in between, student life at LASALLE is an experience you will remember as the best years of your life.

At LASALLE, you will:

- Learn in a real arts school which is practice-led and industry focused.
- Experience artistic revolutions through interdisciplinary collaborations.
- Be in a progressive environment where you are encouraged to be a creative individual.
- Be mentored by some of the best international arts practitioners and taught by practicing artists and designers from the creative industries.
- Be in an accredited institution with programmes that are original and developed by LASALLE.
- Benefit from robust internship programmes and collaboration with established industry partners such as DBS, Shopee, Hirsch Bedner Associates, Ogilvy and Mather, Tribal Worldwide, Base Entertainment Asia, Mediacorp, Singapore Art Museum, National Gallery, Esplanade and Wild Rice.
- Be given opportunities to be involved in multiple creative projects with top global brands such as Nike, Chanel, Levi's, Lego, Dell, Electrolux and Samsung.
- Be embraced by a diverse community of students and lecturers from around the world in a conducive hub of artistic energy.
- Eat, breathe and live creativity 24/7 with a range of activities like on-campus exhibitions, performances, gigs, open mics, and arts markets.

Campuses

McNally Campus

Situated in the central civic and cultural district of Singapore, the McNally Campus is designed to optimise interaction and provide line of sight across the community through its glass façade and gateless walls. The design provides many platforms for interaction and inspiration. In keeping with the integrative nature of contemporary arts and design practice, multiple breakout spaces and sky bridges encourage diverse art forms to coalesce and co-mingle, providing an inspiring learning environment for students.

Architecturally iconic and designed to enable a vibrant, connected community, the McNally Campus offers students an impressive array of performance and exhibition spaces for learning and showcasing. Core lectures and teaching programmes take place at the McNally Campus where LASALLE's unique learning environment encourages interdisciplinary interaction and a holistic approach to contemporary practice.

Winstedt Campus

The Winstedt Campus supports continuous innovation and excellence by supporting studio-based work and research. The space is designed as a comprehensive creative centre that visual arts students – in particular those involved in studio-based modules and levels – can utilise ample and appropriate spaces to develop and complete their semester projects, especially when some of these works might be larger in scale and ambition.

Wilkie Edge learning space

The Wilkie Edge learning space supports studio-based work and research of the Faculty of Design. Located just 50 metres away from the McNally Campus, the Wilkie Edge learning space is used for studio-based modules of the School of Design Communication and School of Fashion.

The Ngee Ann Kongsi Library

The Ngee Ann Kongsi Library houses an extensive arts-related specialist collection of Singapore publications in hard and electronic forms including:

- A comprehensive range of arts and design books, audio-visual resources, e-books and periodicals with a focus on building a niche collection in the contemporary arts.
- A Singapore collection of local artists and the arts scene.
- A contemporary Asian art collection.
- Exhibition catalogues of local and foreign artists.
- Academic databases and e-journals, specialist art dictionaries, encyclopaedia and directories.
- Audio-visual materials including music CDs, CD-ROMs, videos, DVD and Blu-ray DVDs.

LASALLE's Institute of Contemporary Arts Singapore

The Institute of Contemporary Arts Singapore (ICAS) is the curatorial division of LASALLE College of the Arts. Situated at the College's dynamic city campus, its five galleries present a programme of curated international exhibitions alongside exhibitions organised with students, academic staff and alumni. ICAS provides curatorial expertise and resources in the areas of exhibition development, display and mediation, publishing and education as well as manages the LASALLE College of the Arts Collection.

Theatres

For teaching and learning purposes, LASALLE houses the Singapore Airlines Theatre and two other black boxes. These spaces are also popular with external hirers to stage major theatre festivals and performances during semester breaks.

Bringing out the best in our students

Awards and accolades

At LASALLE, creativity and passion are celebrated in many ways. With students honoured at top international awards shows and showcases, these accolades and accomplishments are testament to our excellence in the arts as well as the incandescent talent of the student body.

Industry collaborations

By partnering with companies in the creative industries, LASALLE offers students opportunities to understand and appreciate real-world challenges. These projects prepare our students to become game-changers and creative leaders once they step into the working world.

Be it live projects, internship placements, design competitions, group exhibitions or overseas field trips, our students are provided with valuable opportunities to learn by doing, and to expand their creative horizons in real-case scenarios. Some of our established industry partners include Beyond The Vines, Chanel Singapore, DBS, Dell, Electrolux, Levi's, Lego, Nike, National Gallery and Singapore Tourism Board.

Diploma in Fine Arts

Discover your unique voice in art.

A strong foundation in art-making involves the acquisition and development of solid knowledge and skills in materials, accompanied by a reflective understanding of knowledge that is continually tested and extended through relevant practical application.

Steered with this belief, the teaching and learning approach is firmly practice-based and studio-driven, with an emphasis on the development of your creative processes and discoveries, which are also informed by art history and cultural theory, community engagement projects and an internship experience. You will be trained and equipped with the specific skills, techniques, aesthetics and knowledge of contextual issues that ground your chosen practice.

The programme provides exposure to various fine arts media such as painting, printmaking, sculpture, graphic novel and lens-based art. You have the opportunity to present your final work in your specialised area through a self-proposed project.

The programme also emphasises an interdisciplinary approach to learning, which allows you to discover and establish cross-disciplinary methodologies in the development of your artwork. As this diploma launches the preliminary stage of your artistic journey, you have the freedom to seek and hone your unique creative voice and to appreciate and practise the usage of materials and art processes confidently. You will be ready to build on these skills and understandings at higher and deeper levels after completing this programme.

Why apply

- Experimentation and exploration: Be introduced to a range of materials, techniques and methods to develop your ideas, and learn how to evaluate and reflect on your progress.
- Discipline and rigour: Enjoy a process of self-discovery through art-making, with a culturally sensitive and intellectually inflected approach to studio practices that will ground your artistic trajectory.
- Professional practice: Build a portfolio, interact with practicing artists and industry leaders, and be prepared for degree programmes and employment, with experiential learning through the internship module.
- Intercultural immersion: Get the chance to share and reflect on creative processes with students in arts education in other regions of the world, towards sampling an illuminating range of conditions that enable different priorities and approaches to art-making.

Duration

3 years

Mode

Full-time

Career paths

Painter, printmaker, photographer, sculptor, videographer, new media artist, graphic designer, illustrator, museum or gallery assistant, assistant art conservator and restorer, graphic novel artist, model and prop maker, assistant trainer in visual arts, assistant art teacher, art instructor/educator, window display artist, layout artist or exhibition designer.

Entry requirements

You are required to either take an admissions test or submit a portfolio.

Option 1: Admissions test

The admissions test is only available to applicants from Singapore and in selected cities in China, India, Indonesia, Malaysia, Vietnam and Myanmar, subject to availability of test schedules. You will be notified of the required materials to bring along for the admissions test.

Option 2: Portfolio

Your portfolio should contain 10–15 pieces of original work from at least two of the following categories: paintings, drawings, collages, posters, sculptures, digital images (Photoshop, Illustrator, etc), photographs, and/or video clips. These works should demonstrate your creative development and process and be created solely by you (not from a photograph, magazine or copied from a reproduction of another source).

You are required to upload your portfolio online and label each work as follows:

1. Title of your work (if any)
2. Medium used
3. Month/year created

If we wish to know more about your artwork from the admissions test or your portfolio, we will arrange for a discussion with you.

Diploma in Interior Design

Establish your technical and professional skills of the built environment in industrial design and architecture.

Interior design is the art and science of creating environments that result from the close examination of human behaviour and emotional connection through space. As a profession, it entails the design and planning of a diverse spectrum of spaces such as residential, retail, F&B, office, healthcare, hospitality and institutional spaces.

The curriculum is based on a number of key design principles where fundamental technical knowledge on building materials and technology, technical skills based on latest software applications for 2D and 3D computer-aided design (CAD) and visualisation, and modelling techniques are taught and honed.

Layered with the knowledge of historical and contemporary design, the programme develops understanding of the built environment while keeping relevant to an industry that sees the expected size of the design workforce projected to expand by 25% from 2021 to 2030.

Employment opportunities in a diverse market sector include large architectural practices to specialised design consultancy firms, builders and suppliers to lighting and furniture design practices.

Why apply

- Pathway structure: Choose to deepen your knowledge with a BA (Hons) in Interior Design or Product Design.
- Design-studio culture: Forge strong bonds through a peer environment within a making and learning culture, across shared spaces and collaborative works.
- Industry engagement: Be placed within immediate professional environments through internships and global design competitions.

Diploma in Audio Production

Prepare for the exciting and fast-paced audio production industry in Singapore and beyond.

Through a progressive structure of modules and assessments, you will be taken through the fundamentals of audio technologies and working methodologies of audio production.

Working closely with other performing arts students from music, acting, musical theatre, and theatre production and management, you will gain unique experiences in setting up and operating sound for live concerts and performances, as well as recording projects in the state-of-the-art recording studio at LASALLE.

Through hands-on projects, you will learn and hone the necessary skills for professional placement in this exciting and dynamic industry. Top local and international practitioners provide knowledge and experience, as you gain confidence to take on industry-level projects. You will graduate with the necessary skill set to undertake a career in audio production.

Part of the programme involves community-based projects and, where possible, industry-based internships to enhance both your skills, engagement with the world of work, and career prospects.

Our graduates have excelled in a wide range of careers in the audio production industry. Many become freelance audio engineers, working in leading roles on large-scale productions such as Singapore's National Day Parade. Some have opened their own recording studios, working with leading artists and music labels. Many have also obtained full-time employment at some of the largest live sound and touring companies in Singapore and regionally. With diverse skill sets, graduates have many employment options at establishments such as Esplanade Theatres On The Bay, The Straits Times, Yamaha, d&b audiotechnik and Solid State Logic Asia.

Why apply

- Hands-on education: Learn the latest technology and workflow used in the professional industry.
- Industry experience: Gain knowledge and experience in a wide range of areas in the audio production industry.
- Cross-collaboration: Work with students from music, performance, and theatre production and management to collaborate on a variety of large-scale recording and performance projects.

Duration

3 years

Mode

Full-time

Career paths

Studio recording engineer, live sound reinforcement engineer, music producer, music editor, audio video systems designer or product specialist, music reviewer, electronic music composer or acoustician.

Entry requirements

Portfolio

To determine your suitability for the programme, you will need to submit a portfolio.

Your portfolio should include two samples of your work. Examples include music productions, original compositions recorded and produced by you or a video recording of a live performance where you were an integral part of a live sound reinforcement production. Your submission will need to be in .wav, .aiff, .mov or .mp4 format and uploaded online.

Additional requirement

You are also required to complete an online audio production test set by the School of Contemporary Music.

If we wish to know more about your portfolio, we will arrange for a discussion with you.

Diploma in Music

Unleash your musicality and become an innovative musician in an evolving and contemporary industry.

Contemporary in its content and approach, the Diploma in Music programme embraces pre-eminent contemporary musical styles of our time. The hands-on curriculum prepares you for entry into the music industry in Singapore and the region. You will develop instrumental or vocal technique; study music theory, sight-reading, aural skills, music production, composition and arranging, and receive regular performance opportunities.

The programme aims to develop you as a successful contemporary musician who can sight-read, perform a diverse repertoire, and respond confidently to various professional music circumstances. A typical week involves you rehearsing and performing in different ensembles, receiving one-to-one lessons on your chosen instrument or voice, studying aural skills and theory of music, learning about music production and technology, and being mentored by some of the most experienced and highly qualified musicians and academics in the region.

The comprehensive education you receive will develop your musical identity and skills needed to be a successful modern musician and easily navigate the industry.

Through a progressive structure of modules and assessments benchmarked with global industry standards, you will be taken step-by-step through the building blocks of musicianship and performance to become a confident entertainment industry member. The programme will also involve critical thinking classes, community engagement, playing to the broader public and industry internships.

Why apply

- Industry professionals: Learn from working musicians and academics who bring real-world experiences and industry knowledge into the classroom.
- Cross-collaboration: Work productively with others through participation in ensembles and public performances in the College's venues and in an atmosphere of musical cooperation.
- Artistic growth: Develop a critical understanding of the arts and musical criteria, and master your own style while discovering others.

Duration

3 years

Mode

Full-time

Career paths

Music performer, music producer, composer, songwriter, music arranger, music director, educator, voice talent or vocal coach.

Entry requirements

To determine your suitability for the programme, you will need to submit an audition recording to help us understand your technical and musical abilities.

Audition recording

You will need to submit a video recording of three contrasting pieces of music in any style that will demonstrate your technical and musical abilities most effectively.

Three contrasting pieces may refer to different tempos (e.g. ballad, medium tempo, fast tempo), different styles (e.g. pop, jazz, funk), different genres in one style (e.g. rock ballad, rock-pop, hard rock), different meters (e.g. 4/4, 3/4, 6/8), different periods (e.g. Baroque, Classical, Romantic), or any characteristic that renders the pieces contrasting.

In your video(s), you must perform each of the three pieces in its entirety, not just sections.

- For voice auditions, vocal recordings must have an accompaniment. You can either sing your tunes with a backing track, sing on top of the original recording, or you can accompany yourself with a guitar or piano or another musician can accompany you. You must not perform or submit an a cappella (without accompaniment) vocal recording.
- For instrumental auditions, you can either perform your tunes with a backing track or on top of the original recording. Only guitarists and pianists can record one solo piece, as long as it is a solo piece arrangement. For classical pianists, each movement will be considered as one piece in case of performing a multi-movement work.

Your video recordings must clearly show your face, and in the case of instrumentalists, you must also show your hands while playing as best as possible. Please refrain from using any special effects or filters that might blur your face or hands or submitting social media videos (like TikTok).

Additional requirement

Previous qualifications in music theory or practical exams are preferred but not a requirement for entry into the programme as you will be judged solely on the quality of your submitted audition recordings.

However, you are required to complete an online music theory and aural test set by the School of Contemporary Music. You will be notified of the date and time.

If we wish to know more about your audition recording, we will arrange for a discussion with you.

Diploma in Dance

Develop your versatility through creative collaborations within a nurturing environment.

The Diploma in Dance is a unique contemporary dance programme that develops your versatility to respond to a fast-evolving global dance scene. This professional training programme develops your physical and mental prowess in a supportive learning and performance environment to nurture you into a versatile and reflexive performer and dance-maker.

An international faculty of lecturers and acclaimed visiting guest artists teaches a diverse range of dance techniques: street dance, jazz, ballet and contemporary dance, drawn from a mix of Asian, African, European and American lineages. There will be opportunities for international exposure and cultural exchange. Allied classes that engage with somatic techniques, dance science, impulse work and acting techniques will also improve your technical proficiency, strength and expressive range in performance.

Creative rigour is encouraged across the programme through choreography classes, improvisation and a range of exciting collaborative projects with many different disciplines found within LASALLE. Performance opportunities are offered in multiple styles and situations in renowned arts venues and at festivals and institutions, both in Singapore and around the world.

The industry is your classroom as you work alongside professionals and in professional situations through industry partnerships and placements. You will be prepared to engage with and apply dance in multiple contexts through exposure to dance pedagogy and hands-on community-based projects.

Why apply

- Cross-collaboration: Get to work with students and professional artists from different disciplines such as animation, film, fashion, fine arts and music, and hone your personal creative voice.
- Professional working contexts: Learn directly from international professional artists, work on industry and community-based projects in professional venues and at festivals, go on internships, and function as a company to prepare a range of repertoire.
- Variety of techniques: Learn to be versatile across different dance genres and take part in workshops that develop skills such as characterisation, impulse-work and vice-work.
- Range of performance contexts: Research and learn to work with and create dance for a range of contexts, such as dance for camera, improvisation scores, intimate performance or site-specific dance.

Duration

Career paths

Dancer, choreographer, dance teacher, movement trainer or arts manager.

Entry requirements

Audition

To determine your suitability for the programme, you will need to undergo an audition.

You will need to prepare a 1–3 minute self-choreographed solo, of any genre, in response to one of the following themes/stimuli:

1. Create a work that develops a narrative of your choice.
2. Windows.
3. Architecture.
4. Cycles.
5. Pick a painting or sculpture that you are attracted to and choreograph your response to it (please bring a copy of this picture).
6. Pick a poem that you find meaningful and choreograph your response to it (please bring a copy of this poem).

In this segment, you will be assessed on your expressions, commitment, embodied presence and ability to respond to this brief. Your solo may be performed in silence or to music, with or without specific costume choices. Choose your music or soundscape carefully to support your choreography.

You will also attend a dance class that will need you to demonstrate the following:

1. A combination of going to the floor and recovering up in various forms.
2. Elevation or jumps within a movement sequence.
3. Extension of the body and the coordinated use of the legs.
4. Extended sequence of movements that deals with folding in the body, fall and balance, circles and alternating leading with the upper body and the legs.

It is advisable that you thoroughly warm up and wear appropriate dance wear and footwear for the audition.

International applicants

If you cannot attend the audition at LASALLE, an online audition will be arranged. If we wish to know more about your audition, we will arrange for a discussion with you.

Diploma in Performance

Discover yourself and the world through the art of performance.

Develop strategies and skills to interrogate the world and respond meaningfully using contemporary performance forms and applications, drawing on both traditional and experimental theatre disciplines. Encompassing the significant rite of passage from apprentice to performer, this dynamic Diploma in Performance programme trains you to recognise events that have the potential to be explored and developed into performance.

Performance-making is both a practical and an intellectual activity. You will be engaged in hands-on experiential learning alongside academic studies to maximise your abilities to interrogate, analyse and create, with a particular focus on physical performance forms and dramatic texts from Singapore and the region.

With skills and knowledge in acting, movement, voice and stagecraft, you will be able to devise and create performance events that present your point of view. The programme develops your professional capacity to work as an ensemble and collaborate with others, and an understanding of industry expectations. You will have opportunities to perform in studios and theatre venues at the College, under the guidance of highly experienced educators and professionals.

The programme also requires you to engage with communities and seek internships in and around Singapore. You will develop both your critical and creative thinking, and enlarge your ability to be self-reflexive about yourself and your work.

Why apply

- Global content: Immerse in a curriculum that integrates Eastern and Western performance disciplines.
- Original and personal voice: Develop your individuality as you benefit from the strong emphasis on devising and creation of original work.
- Close industry ties: Gain professionalism, key links and understanding of the industry, fostered by a faculty consisting of practising professional artists.
- Self-reflexivity: Become an articulate artist through the dialogical exchange between theory and practice that exists across all classes.

Duration

For your monologue, you will be assessed on your ability to convey a sense of character, environment and circumstances based on your interpretation of the play.

It is advisable that you wear loose fitting clothing that allows you to move easily. Do not bring large props or costumes.

International applicants

If you cannot attend the audition at LASALLE, an online audition will be arranged. If we wish to know more about your audition, we will arrange for a discussion with you.

Diploma in Theatre Production and Management

Be at the cutting edge of backstage management of people and technology.

The Diploma in Theatre Production and Management programme equips you for employment in the theatre and event production industries. The exciting, practical and diverse curriculum will introduce you to the broad range of disciplines involved in the mounting of successful theatre and live events such as music, corporate and industry shows, cultural events, exhibitions, film and television.

Following core skill acquisition in all discipline areas including production management, stage lighting, audio, media, scenic construction, prop-making, stage mechanics, costume and stage management, the programme allows you to focus your studies in the areas of your own strength and interest. It will also equip you with the skills, practice and networking opportunities required to open doors to employment opportunities within theatre and event production.

You will be empowered to work both independently and as part of a team. By collaborating on projects and productions with those studying on performance programmes, you will learn to work with actors, dancers, musicians, visual artists and other technicians in planning and managing complex artistic and communication aspects. Your learning will develop your transferable skills in collaboration, critical thinking, deadline management and leadership – skills that are relevant and transferable to alternative industries.

Why apply

- Hands-on education: Learn to produce and stage a variety of theatre productions in different theatre venues.
- Professional learning environment: With production processes mirroring those that you find in the theatre and events industries, you are well prepared to enter the industry.
- Strong alumni network: Benefit from greater employability and industry connections by working alongside alumni in the industry and on campus.
- Technological familiarity: Learn on, and experiment with, a range of software and hardware that keeps you up to date with industry advancements.

Duration

3 years

Mode

Full-time

Career paths

Production manager, technical manager, stage manager, production assistant, stage crew, stage mechanist, lighting technician, sound technician, media technician, assistant to set designer, assistant to costume designer, theatrical fly person, scenic carpenter, prop maker, events manager, venue manager, public installation practitioner, scenic designer, audio designer, lighting designer or sound designer.

Portfolio

To determine your suitability for the programme, you will need to submit a portfolio. You can base your portfolio on either a folk story, legend or fairy tale. It should have a story (the narrative or plot), characters (the roles played by actors) and meaning (theme or 'content'). Consider how you would like to see your production of this story onstage and compile your portfolio with the following:

1. Draw, paint or collect some images that show the different settings or scenery. Show how these 'scenes' might appear with different lighting, with different atmospheres, in daylight or at midnight etc.
2. Make lists of any furniture and props that the scenes might need. Draw, copy or cut out images of the most important props or special machinery and special effects. You may want to make all the costumes or design the sets or props.
3. Consider all the characters in the story and select some of the most important ones. Make some notes about their main qualities, age, ambitions, etc. Draw, collect photographs, cut out magazines of what you think the characters will look like. You may want to cast some of these roles with actors you know.
4. You are also required to include a video recording to explain your portfolio e.g. What is the story about? What 'message' might the story contain? What you would like to convey to the audience? The video recording should include a self-introduction that articulates a vision of your future career and the aspects of theatre production that you are interested to pursue.

You are required to upload your portfolio online. If we wish to know more about your portfolio, we will arrange for a discussion with you.

BA (Hons) Art Histories and Curatorial Practices: Asia and the World <sup>NEW</sup>

Study art history and its curatorial practices.

This programme is the first of its kind in Singapore and Southeast Asia. Instead of treating art history and curatorial practice as discrete disciplines, this distinctive programme fosters a symbiotic relationship between these two practices in the context of an evolving and increasingly expansive intellectual, artistic and social field.

The situated focus of the programme – Asia and the world – seeks to generate new discourses in and through a regional lens that creates balance and insight into the making of art historiographies as a crucial and critical curation of politics of knowledge in a global art world.

This timely and relevant programme aims to address current and arising global events and concerns. It pays close attention to the impact of, for instance, the pandemic, advances in technology and environmental issues, all of which are transforming the ways in which the arts are practised and theorised, as well as how works of art are presented and received.

In studying and understanding the historical flows and emerging geometries of cultural production and creative economies, ecologically responsive and ethically responsible approaches to curating and exhibiting art are central to this programme. You will also be taught to use digital tools as a means to shape art histories and curate virtual exhibitions. New media art and emerging art technologies, including NFTs, and the ephemeral qualities of durational performance art will challenge you to learn and experiment with how such art forms can and should be critiqued, curated, collected and conserved.

The Institute of Contemporary Arts Singapore, a prime curatorial arm of LASALLE, will serve as an incubator for you to learn from curators, study exhibitions and work with artists. This programme culminates in a final project for which you will collaborate to plan and execute an exhibition that combines theoretical and practical knowledge.

Why apply

- Experiential learning: Acquire skills, knowledge and experience that will be applicable to and transferable in the real world.
- Industry connections: Move beyond the classroom into the arts ecosystem, where there will be many opportunities for you to work alongside, collaborate with and study under art practitioners and professionals.
- Curate an exhibition: For the final year or capstone project, you get the opportunity to curate and realise an exhibition as part of a group.
- Study in Singapore: Be in the arts hub of the region and a leading centre for the research of Southeast Asian art, and gain easy access to world class museums, galleries, art fairs and independent art spaces.

Duration

3 years

Mode

Full-time

Career paths

Museum assistant curator, museum educator, independent curator, art writer/editor, art historian/researcher, art teacher/educator, art gallery manager, auction house specialist, heritage worker or archivist.

Entry requirements

A two-step process is put in place to determine your suitability for the programme:

1. Submit your Statement of Purpose based on the requirements outlined below.
2. Attend an interview upon meeting the requirements.

Statement of Purpose

In 300 words, you are required to describe your experience, exposure or involvement in the arts. You may tell us about an art exhibition that you have seen or about your favourite artist or artwork. You may also tell us your objective of applying to the programme, your expectations of the programme and your aspirations after finishing the programme.

Interview

Shortlisted applicants will be contacted for an interview. During the interview, you are required to participate in a dialogue regarding the content of your Statement of Purpose. You will be asked to talk about your work, inspirations and influences. You should articulate what motivates you to learn, explore and experiment in your areas of interest. You should also share how you think the programme will help you in your future career choices.

International applicants

If you are unable to attend the interview at LASALLE, an online interview will be arranged for you.

BA (Hons) Design for Social Futures <sup>NEW</sup>

Training the citizen designer of our future and resetting the world through creative design.

The aim of the BA (Hons) Design for Social Futures programme is to foster a learning environment for you to gain flexibility – from leadership to co-creation and collaboration, and adapt quickly to challenges faced by today's society. Challenges where design thinking, innovation and value creation are key to unlocking opportunities for all economic sectors of society, especially in the non-design sectors.

The programme is rooted in areas such as service design, user interface and user-experience design, information and data, social design, transformative systems, speculative and strategic designs, as well as digital content and narrative design and environments.

From working in big tech to social enterprises, independent ventures to co-creation endeavours, you will be able to adapt to your environment and respond to evolving societal constraints within and beyond, and imagine new potentialities for society. Designed to respond to emerging developments in design and non-design sectors, the programme brings together three major centres: design, industries and enterprise, and cultures and community.

The curriculum focuses on design practice with solutions prioritising human and non-human perspectives, realities and experiences. You will be encouraged to ask valid, significant and complex questions, using an innovative pedagogical approach to mediate between past and future, global and local, traditions and contemporaries.

The programme presents content to reflect the changing global and ecological climate and emerging trends through a dynamic and idea-driven learning environment, while addressing the influence of design practice on society in broad areas such as Creative Resets, Creative and Creator Communities, Health, Well-being and Care and Sustainability, Circularity and Regeneration.

Why apply

- Creative leadership: Become a moving and leading part of the industry as you evolve from one module to the next until you graduate.
- Real-life design briefs: Participate in real-life design briefs proposed by agencies, services, healthcare and learning institutions, and social and sustainable companies and learn by making and becoming an agent of change.
- Innovative learning and practice: Engage in a community of designers, students and academics who participate in multidisciplinary fields of design practice and theory.
- Active network: Besides professional and learning opportunities, you get access to a community of professionals and a strong alumni network after graduation.

BA (Hons) International Contemporary Dance Practices <sup>NEW</sup>

Transcend boundaries in dance performance, practice and creation.

Taking cue from the multicultural, multi-ethnic mix of Singapore and London, this programme aims to develop independent and experimental portfolio dance artists who are responsive to changes in the global dance industry. A significant strength of the programme is the many visiting internationally known dance artists who will share their work and creative processes with you.

The programme brings international perspectives and transcultural approaches to reflect on your creative processes, both as a performer and independent creator. You have the opportunity to participate in a variety of live and digital performances in a range of performance contexts, as well as volunteer at short-term residencies and internships and placements during the semester breaks.

The first year of study will be delivered at London Contemporary Dance School in London and the final two years in Singapore at LASALLE. The foundation year pays attention to inclusivity and cultural differences through encounters with dances of the African diaspora, South Asian dance practices and Euro-American practices. The dancer's relationship with the body through anatomy and body conditioning, and the relationship to music and history will be explored. The curriculum also includes workshops, guest teaching and performances that draw on the rich tapestry of work available in London.

The final two years build on the artistry with explorations across cultures and a diverse range of dance theories and practices, particularly contemporary dance practices in Southeast Asia. The individual artistic voice is developed through collaborations with different disciplines and experiments in a range of media. You will also research and design your own projects in a negotiated area of interest that develops your personal artistic and creative practice.

Why apply

- Cross-continental delivery: Due to its location in the vibrant cultural hubs of London and Singapore, you will be exposed to a wide range of techniques, practices, cultures and traditions, developing you as an independent and experimental portfolio dance artist ready for an international career.
- Global citizenry: By engaging in multiple creative projects and collaborations with international artists and peers across different art forms, cultures and contexts, you discover how to be culturally situated and relevant with your art.
- Focus on personal artistry: The close mentoring by artist-lecturer on the many student-led research and creative projects, collaborations and performances in varied performance contexts enable you to discover and develop your personal artistic voice.

Duration

3 years

Mode

Full-time

Career paths

Independent dance artist, dancer, choreographer, dance teacher, arts manager, producer or programmer.

Entry requirements

A two-step process is put in place to determine your suitability for the programme:

1. Submit an audition recording based on the requirements outlined below.
2. Attend an admissions workshop and interview upon meeting the audition requirements.

Audition recording

You will submit a video recording online with the following:

- A self-introduction
- A self-choreographed solo of any genre. Your solo may be performed in silence or to music, with or without specific costume choices. Choose your music or soundscape carefully to support your choreography (3–5 minutes).
- An explanation of your choreography to contextualise the dance (2–4 minutes).

Admissions workshop and interview

Shortlisted applicants will be invited to attend an admissions workshop on-site at London Contemporary Dance School, UK or LASALLE, Singapore. The admissions workshop consists of a technique class that incorporates ballet, contemporary and/or street dance followed by an improvisation class.

An interview will be conducted at the end of the admissions workshop. During the interview, you are required to participate in a dialogue regarding your audition piece. Be prepared to talk about your work, inspirations and influences. Tell us what motivates you to learn, explore and experiment in your areas of interest. You should also share how you think the programme will help you in your future career choices.

International applicants

If you are unable to attend the admissions workshop and interview in person, an online session will be arranged for you.

BA (Hons) Fine Arts

Become an interdisciplinary artist who lives for the global evolution of fine arts.

The study of fine arts is a process of continual debate and exploration, of questioning conventions and interrogating set perspectives. Contemporary fine art practices constantly negotiate their surroundings and histories in responsive and ever-changing ways.

The BA (Hons) Fine Arts programme situates itself at the crossroads of contemporary cultures to acknowledge the demands of different worldviews. It unites specialised areas from traditional disciplines to emergent art forms to provide wider options for expression ahead of the global evolution of fine arts.

The curriculum is developed to embrace diversity and activate broad-based inquiry into contemporary art practices, encouraging experimental collaborations with other disciplines such as science, humanities and technology.

Through a myriad of materials and methodologies, you will develop capabilities to become an interdisciplinary artist who is resourceful in the articulation of your research interest. You will be poised to approach and engage your professional practice in a reflective and analytical manner, and manifest your unique point of view towards art, culture and society.

Why apply

- Studio-centred learning: This practice-based programme seamlessly integrates the exploration and refinement of a wide range of practices and techniques with the historico-aesthetic context of and socio-economic conditions for making.
- Exhibitions: Explore experimental forms of exhibition-making at every level, with professional curatorial support and advice, both within the College and in public and private external venues.
- Study trip: Gain an appreciation for and understanding of site-based cultural production in a global, networked ecology of practices.
- Professional practice: Benefit from guest lectures, studio visits, tutorials, group critiques, and internship opportunities led by an illustrious roster of alumni and industry experts.

Duration

BA (Hons) Animation Art

Unleash your creativity and let imagination come to life.

This programme at the Puttnam School of Film and Animation is uniquely situated within a rich and diverse creative arts environment that prides itself on nurturing the creative potential of its students.

As a student, you have the power to create something truly extraordinary. Your imagination knows no bounds, and your ideas can change the world. Whether it's a short film, documentary or animation, your work has the potential to inspire, educate and entertain audiences around the globe.

The comprehensive curriculum will equip you with the necessary skills, knowledge and opportunities to develop and produce animated content for a range of platforms and sectors. Our interdisciplinary approach transcends the art/technology divide, offering a learning environment that develops multifaceted flexible artists with specialised animation and broad-based creative skills.

Through a reflective artistic practice, the programme emphasises and encourages dialogue and exploration, challenging you to develop imaginative ideas suitable for animated movie and broadcast production. Our aim is to cultivate visionary individuals who will lead the creative industries by questioning established assumptions and proposing innovative and imaginative solutions.

Ultimately, you will be equipped with the thinking skills, technical knowledge and confidence to conceptualise, develop and produce amazing ideas. Join us and become the next generation of visionary artists and creative leaders.

Our graduates are working as creatives in major local studios such as CraveFX, One Animation, Finding Pictures, Omens Studios, Robot Playground Media and Mighty Jaxx, and top international studios such as Industrial Light & Magic, Wētā FX, Base FX, DNEG and Ubisoft. Many have also gone on to start up their creative businesses, for example working to transform the digital media sector.

Why apply

- Creative expression: Animation is a great medium for creative expression, and for artists who want to bring their imagination to life.
- Technical skills: Be proficient in a wide variety of software and technical skills which provides a great foundation for a career in the creative industries.
- Cross-collaboration: Work in teams and across disciplines (actors, musicians, filmmakers, designers, AR/VR) and develop your communication and collaboration skills.
- Impactful storytelling: Use animation to share stories and content in an impactful manner.

BA (Hons) Film

Creating cinematic storytellers for a global audience.

Uniquely situated within a rich and diverse creative arts environment, the programme prides itself on nurturing your creative auteurship potential, while also preparing you for the practical exigencies of filmmaking as a career choice. This programme answers the call of the local and international film communities which seek reflective practitioners empowered by creativity and authenticity.

The BA (Hons) Film programme provides a holistic approach to developing you as a 'total filmmaker', from script to screen. You are expected to engage and achieve a high level of technical and narrative artistry during the course of study. A core principle and identifying pedagogical approach of the programme is the focus on the development and craft of filmmaking.

Throughout the first two years of study, you are required to gain competency in all seven major disciplines of filmmaking: screenwriting, producing, directing, cinematography, sound, post-production and production design. It is through both the portfolio and group films that you are nurtured to develop both the technical and narrative artistry to enable you to create universally inspiring and thought-provoking filmic content.

Ultimately, the programme aims to graduate highly creative, critical and dynamic moving image storytellers who are capable of significantly and confidently contributing to local and regional film and media landscapes.

Why apply

- Rich creative ecosystem: Tap into various disciplines of an arts college and benefit from the collaborative process.
- International award-winning faculty: Learn from nurturing teaching staff with strong connections to the local and regional industry.
- Production-focused curriculum: Gain practical knowledge and skills that will help you master the craft and thrive in the real world.

BA (Hons) Arts Management

Lead the global arts business and stimulate the next-gen creative scene.

The BA (Hons) Arts Management programme focuses on contemporary and emerging issues, as well as policy interventions that are impacting the creative sector and shaping the arts markets.

It aims to develop leadership, business, communication and managerial skills to nurture the next generation of thought leaders and professional decision-makers in the arts and cultural industries. You will develop your creative practice and critical thinking, and sharpen your entrepreneurial mind to recognise opportunities in order to proactively and strategically design your career.

The programme also emphasises the economic vitality and environmental sustainability of the creative sector, and digitalisation of artistic practices and management tasks. It also highlights alternative approaches and opportunities within traditional arts business models that are emerging due to globalisation and the rise of new platforms and data.

Graduates join the arts and cultural sector in Singapore and the region, helping to drive their organisations' efforts to survive and thrive in a highly competitive and ever-changing landscape. Your knowledge of cultural policy equips you to join advocacy groups and national organisations to promote arts and culture. Your understanding of artists and audiences enables you to programme compelling and meaningful exhibitions and shows, while your entrepreneurial skills and knowledge provide you with the tools to start your own cultural enterprise.

Why apply

- Thought leadership: Acquire a comprehensive knowledge on policy, economics and legal issues shaping the creative sector, as well as develop valuable skills needed to successfully navigate the arts and cultural industry.
- Entrepreneurship: Develop an entrepreneurial mindset and gain required experience to build a more sustainable and independent career in the arts management domain.
- Cultural connections: Develop a robust network in Singapore and the region by participating in arts industry engagement programmes and study travel tours in Southeast Asia.
- Fully immersive: Benefit from the diverse Singapore arts scene that operates within the global arts network and participate in and help organise or (co)design your own arts events, festivals and initiatives.

BA (Hons) Design Communication

Articulate novel ideas, innovate design practices and shape the future design industry.

Design is critical to everyday communication. It changes, influences and improves lives. Meaningful design informs our social and cultural norms, and inspires creativity and new forms of expression.

The BA (Hons) Design Communication programme seeks to enable you to meet the new challenges of your generation and contribute to its contemporary visual culture, social practices and the new economy.

Unique in Asia, the programme provides a holistic education that pushes the boundaries of the discipline, while keeping up-to-date with the latest technologies. It enables you to engage with areas of interest ranging from graphic design, branding and identity, digital media, critical practice and making, editorial design, type narratives, materials and craft-making, and information and computational design.

You will work through cross-disciplinary, multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches to different design briefs. You will engage in studio-based learning, contextual and cultural studies, masterclasses, industry-related capstone projects, practice-based research, and entrepreneurial boot camps. Our continued collaboration with crucial design industry stakeholders testify to this component's currency and industry relevance.

You emerge as a thinking designer who can articulate novel ideas, innovate design practices and help shape the future design industry.

Why apply

- Thinking through making: Get a strong grounding in contextual understanding and technical skill sets in a practice-based studio learning environment.
- Industry-based projects: Gain experiential learning through mentorships, entrepreneurship bootcamps, specialised designer masterclasses and global engagement with overseas university partners.
- Strong foundation in design research: Get the opportunity to focus on an area of study within one of the following research tracks: culture and identities, media and technology, experiences and futures.
- The graduation project: Be led to the creation of new artefacts, experiences and discourses, accompanied by a well-researched sound dissertation paper.

BA (Hons) Fashion Design and Textiles

Drive fashion innovation through creative thinking, theory and making.

The BA (Hons) Fashion Design and Textiles programme focuses on the design and construction of the fashion garment, addressing craftsmanship, sustainability, aesthetic and sociocultural issues within a contemporary fashion context. Using a mix of traditional and contemporary crafted approaches, together with a strong understanding of theory, you will learn how to translate ideas from paper to 3D physical and digital garments.

You will engage in practical workshops that encourage independent learning through intellectual and creative processes. Industry projects, collaborations and dialogues are encouraged to maximise your relationships within the programme, the College and with other institutions to empower regional perspectives for a global market. Through a variety of projects and directed independent practice, you learn to analyse, evaluate and make creative and practical decisions.

The philosophy of the programme is innovating fashion through creative thinking, theory and making. Through a combination of components – studio, creative and contextual studies modules – you will develop a range of analytical, communication and problem-solving skills to become an articulate, meticulous and thoughtful practitioner in the field of fashion.

Why apply

- Pathway structure: Direct your learning and future by choosing to study textiles for fashion and creative pattern cutting with options to specialise in draping, tailoring and extended realities.
- Industry experience: We work with industry professionals and sponsors to provide you with unique opportunities for collaborations and live projects in our studios.
- Industry networks: Learn from international fashion communities around the world as well as globally recognised universities and institutes to balance local and regional perspectives.
- Successful alumni: Our growing alumni are making waves within Singapore and in the global fashion industry.

BA (Hons) Fashion Media and Industries

Focus on the business side of fashion, media and communication in the fast-growing fashion industry.

The BA (Hons) Fashion Media and Industries programme offers a critical and multidisciplinary environment which specialises in the areas of media and communication as well as fashion entrepreneurship.

Globalisation, new dimensions of commerce and technological advancements have propelled the industry into an age of unprecedented change. This programme is developed in response to that growing need to cover the spectrum of new creative roles and emerging skill sets within the fashion industry.

The aim is to provide the local and international fashion industry with strategic designers and creative thinkers. An understanding of the interplay between fashion media, fashion entrepreneurship and the sociocultural significance of fashion, complemented by technology is what underscores the competitive edge of the programme. You will graduate with the skills and know-how to thrive in a fast-moving, rapidly changing and increasingly demanding global fashion industry.

The programme promotes awareness of contemporary fashion culture, collaboration and excellence. It positions itself as a melting pot of cultures where fashion creativity and the fashion debate meet in this region. We work with a network of industry and independent practitioners that brings a uniquely Asian perspective with a global approach.

Why apply

- No similar offerings locally: This truly unique programme focuses on fashion media, communication and entrepreneurship as a tool to critically engage, confront and intervene in the most pressing issues today.
- Strong emphasis on design principles: Through the specialisms in image-making, entrepreneurship, communication, curation and digital technology skills, you will shape your identity as a designer.
- Beyond fashion: Sustainability, future crafts and entrepreneurship are core pillars for the programme's strong positioning within multiple contexts of Singapore, Southeast Asia and worldwide.
- Practice-based studio environment: Competition briefs and internationalisation cross-collaboration projects are embedded in the practical studio modules across all levels.

BA (Hons) Interior Design

Create experiential and new spatial environments that challenge convention and transcend trends.

Interior design is the art and science of creating environments by closely examining human behaviour and emotional connection to and through space. It is closely interwoven with various design disciplines, ranging from architecture, lighting design, industrial design, object and furniture design, as well as exhibition and experience design which increasingly includes augmented and virtual realities.

The BA (Hons) Interior Design programme is crafted to focus on discovering new typologies of space and experiential environments that respond to user behaviour and emotions. Working closely with industry professionals and luminaries in related fields of design, the programme develops critical design thinking that encourages you to challenge convention, establish new habits and trends, and seek new knowledge. With analytical thinking and creativity, you are better positioned in the face of opportunities in both design and non-design sectors.

The curriculum is based on several fundamental design principles. Design processes and methodologies are explored in practice-based studio projects. Core discipline skills include a critical understanding of design history and contemporary theory, technical knowledge of building materials and technology, traditional drafting and modelling techniques, and the latest software applications for 2D and 3D computer-aided design (CAD) and visualisation.

While arming yourself with the requisite skills, techniques and technologies of the discipline, you will develop a deeper understanding of the transforming nature of your complex lived environments, thereby enabling you to be a designer attuned to the needs of your societies.

Why apply

- Real-world experience: Spearhead live projects and take part in global exchange programmes.
- Design studio culture: Forge collaborative work practices through peer learning and shared working environment.
- Industry engagement: Learn hands-on through professional internships and be exposed to national and international design competitions.

BA (Hons) Product Design

Redefine, challenge and create new user experiences in the global arena.

Product design is about people, processes, methods, objects and meaning-making. The design field facilitates the transformation of everyday life's social, cultural and economic processes, especially in an uncertain and complex world.

The BA (Hons) Product Design programme aims to develop a breed of professionals who possess a broad range of skills to work across sectors and disciplines. Through analytical thinking, design research and empathy, you will be at the forefront of user-centred creators of tangible and intangible products that exist within the interdependent network of material and immaterial interactions.

Through rigorous training in software-specific skills that enable practical 'making' aspects of this discipline, this programme also believes in cultivating critical thinkers who can prospect and respond effectively to disruptions through theoretical underpinnings rooted in speculative and futures-thinking principles as well as cultural studies. As an inherently future-oriented discipline, product designers are cultural producers, facilitators and value creators in growing global markets.

Our pedagogy engages design practice through contextual underpinnings linking theory to practice. An awareness of the issues pertinent to contemporary design is emphasised and reflected incrementally through various levels of learning.

Why apply

- Immersive studio-based environment: Gain experiential learning that focuses on thinking through making, and cross-level clusters for innovation and the creation of a strong studio culture.
- Emphasis on user research and technical understanding: Diverse faculty provides a variety of teaching formats, balancing between structured and unstructured approaches.
- Real-world skills and experience: Engage in live projects and workshops with industry partners, practising designers and visiting artists, and make research field trips to real-world venues.

BA (Hons) Music

Be at the forefront as the next-gen contemporary musician and music-maker.

As an innovative and progressive music degree in Asia, the BA (Hons) Music programme is committed to contemporary approaches to sound through experimentation, improvisation and exploration of new technologies. It is future-focused to respond to the demands of the global creative music industry and deeply committed to transforming the contemporary music scene in Singapore and Asia, offering valuable industry engagement and successful graduate employment.

Uniquely offering five specialist areas of practice including Popular Music Performance, Electronic Music, Jazz Performance, Composition and Arranging, and Classical Performance, you will focus on essential technical skills and repertoire specific to your specialisation, while collaborating with students from other specialisations.

Practice is at the core of this programme, and it is delivered through weekly one-to-one lessons, rehearsals and performances in your ensembles, lessons in music theory, aural training and music technology. Alongside the focus on practice, there is an emphasis on research throughout the programme, preparing you to be a confident and articulate leader in the music industry.

Distinctive programme features include the teaching of live sound and producing techniques – a pioneering improvisation programme for Classical Performance – a focus on conducting in our Composition and Arranging specialisation, and teaching the leading approaches to group improvisation including Soundpainting, Conduction and Cobra.

In addition, you have the opportunity to engage in interdisciplinary projects with our international partners and students from other Schools within LASALLE, student exchanges, internships, international telematic performances, as well as participate in our yearly festivals including Piano Voyage, Rock and Indie Festival (RIF), CHOPPA Festival of Experimental Music and the Living Composers Series.

Why apply

- Specialism structure: Choose from five specialisations within one music degree – Popular Music Performance, Electronic Music, Jazz Performance, Composition and Arranging, and Classical Performance.
- State of the art technology and facilities: Produce high quality music in our tracking, mixing and mastering suites and computer lab, and produce live performances in our industry standard venues and with our online broadcast capacity.
- Holistic approach to music education: Performers become confident improvisers and composers.
- Emphasis on critical thinking through experimental practice: A commitment to experimental practice sets us apart in the field of music education enabling you to readily take risks, think outside the box, and remain competitive and at the forefront of the music industry.

Career paths

Music performer, music arranger, composer for media, film and TV, producer, recording and or live sound engineer, educator, vocal coach, instrumental teacher or concert producer.

Entry requirements

A two-step process is put in place to determine your suitability for the programme:

1. Submit an audition recording based on the requirements outlined below.
2. Attend an interview upon meeting the audition requirements.

Audition recording

You will need to submit a video recording based on the following audition requirements and upload it online. Depending on your choice of the five specialisms we offer, you will need to present the following in your recording:

|                                  |  |
|----------------------------------|--|
| Classical Performance     | Perform three pieces: a Baroque, Romantic and 20th century work. You are required to pass the music scores to the audition panel.  |
| Composition and Arranging | Perform either three original and contrasting pieces or present them on recordings using your own playback device such as your phone or laptop. You are required to present scores utilising traditional music notation. |
| Jazz Performance          | Perform three pieces: a Blues, Jazz Standard and an original composition complete with an improvised solo over each piece.   |
| Electronic Music          | Perform either three original and contrasting pieces or present them on recordings using your own playback device such as your phone or laptop.  |
| Popular Music Performance | Perform three pieces: two contrasting songs from different styles and one original composition.  |

Note: Pre-requisites for music training

Previous qualifications in music theory or practical exams are preferred but not a requirement for entry into the programme as you will be judged solely on your ability to perform during the audition and/or the quality of your portfolio of compositions.

You are required to upload your recorded audition online.

Interview

Shortlisted applicants will be contacted for an interview. During the interview, you are required to participate in a dialogue regarding your audition pieces. Be prepared to talk about your work, inspirations and influences. Tell us what motivates you to learn, explore and experiment in your areas of interest. You should also share how you think the programme will help you in your future career choices.

International applicants

If you are unable to attend the interview at LASALLE, an online interview will be arranged for you.

Additional requirements

You are required to complete an online music theory and aural test set by the School of Contemporary Music.

BA (Hons) Acting

Enrich your imagination, kinesthetic awareness and emotional sensitivity as a professional, multifaceted actor.

This is a conservatory-style acting programme that develops actors with training in acting, voice and movement techniques such as mime, silat, Suzuki, biomechanics or Le Jeu, synthesising theory and practice. You will learn to be an expressive, informed and creative actor, with the ability to work across genres, media and cultures. The programme also offers components in voice-overs and TV hosting.

Academic work, theory and research are closely aligned with performances. Student-led research projects are a rich aspect of the vivid art-making processes that occur within the programme. You will develop your craft and abilities to work and play in a safe environment, and be supported in an ensemble while honouring your own imagination and individual potential.

You will participate in a variety of productions, directed by both local and international professionals, in a range of classic and contemporary works that are innovative, authentic and thought-provoking. The programme also collaborates with other disciplines within LASALLE and with professional partners to develop new and innovative theatre works.

The programme is committed to producing curious, creative, intelligent graduates who are prepared for industry expectations and needs. You will graduate ready to create and participate in stage, film, TV, radio, and multimedia opportunities. Our graduates are creating and leading artistic ventures across the globe.

Why apply

- Conservatoire training in a university setting: Be grounded in a strong mastery of your craft, while being taught to consider a range of theoretical frameworks that enables you to articulate the learning and artistry behind it.
- Global education: Be well-versed in a variety of techniques and the performance of plays from Asia, Europe and the US, and be culturally situated in your art.
- Cross-collaboration: You have the opportunity to work, formally and informally, with students from a wide range of disciplines on different kinds of projects.

BA (Hons) Musical Theatre

Become a confident 'triple threat' musical theatre artiste and professional.

The world of musical theatre is diverse and colourful, with new musical works being brought alive everywhere by performers, directors, choreographers, designers and musicians.

As an art form, it attracts a sophisticated viewership across the globe. While technical advances have transformed stage productions into rich visual spectacles, highly trained and gifted performers remain integral to the success and growth of the genre.

The BA (Hons) Musical Theatre programme provides world-class education for gifted young performers. Internationally unique as an honours degree – the first of its kind in Asia – it is designed to prepare you for a professional career in musicals, plays, cabarets, film and television. Graduates are employed in the region, as well as the UK, Europe, US and Australia.

Contemporary musical theatre demands that all performers can sing, dance and act with equal skill – a 'triple threat'. This programme trains such future professionals in these disciplines and gives you a rich historical and cultural context from which to interpret and create.

In addition to classes and workshops, you are continually involved in realising a variety of partially and fully staged theatre productions, in a range of performance venues and the digital realm. These are led by local and international professional directors, music directors and choreographers.

Why apply

- Originality and creativity: Develop your own artistic voice as you create original works as well as through multiple performance contexts.
- Industry and community networks: Strong connections are bridged through numerous opportunities for you to engage in community and industry events.
- Embracing technology: Learn digital workflows and applications and become resourceful individuals capable of adapting to the changing demands of the performing arts.
- International network: Learn from and join the ranks of successful alumni across the world, from the stages and screens of Singapore to Broadway and the West End.

Entry requirements

A two-step process is put in place to determine your suitability for the programme:

1. Prepare and go through an audition based on the requirements outlined below.
2. Attend an interview upon meeting the audition requirements.

Audition

You will need to prepare to demonstrate your aptitude for singing, acting and dancing based on the following:

1. Singing

You must perform two songs from memory, in English. Each song should be from a musical theatre source in contrasting styles (e.g. one ballad and one uptempo song) which appropriately showcases your range and technique. The combined duration of the songs should not exceed five minutes. (i.e. around 2.5 minutes for each song).

All songs must be performed with live piano accompaniment, no backing tracks are allowed. You may bring your own accompanist or use the accompanist provided. You must bring the music of your songs in the key in which you will perform. Please ensure that the music is either taped to fold out or inserted in a folder.

2. Acting

You are required to prepare and present one 2–3 minute dramatic 'modern' monologue either from the list provided, or one of your own choosing. You must be able to convey the character and journey in both singing and acting pieces.

3. Dancing

You are required to work with a choreographer in the studio to perform a short choreography dance piece to demonstrate your ability to pick up dance movements and execute them in succession as a performance. You will be required to perform various dance combinations, inclusive of jumps and leaps that demonstrate your full physical mobility, range of physical movement and overall coordination. You will be assessed based on your ability to show a grounding in techniques, flexibility in taking directions as well as a desire to take risks as a performer. It is advisable that you wear loose fitting clothing that allows you to move easily.

Interview

Shortlisted applicants will be contacted for an interview. During the interview, you are required to participate in a dialogue regarding your audition pieces. Be prepared to talk about your work, what inspires you and your influences. Tell us what motivates you to learn, explore and experiment in your areas of interest. You should also share how you think the programme will help you in your future career choices.

- Funded/subsidised fees for Singaporeans and Singapore PR qualify for GST subsidy from MOE, all other fees include 9% GST in 2024.
- Fees are due on the first day of each semester.
- Fees are subject to change.
- Correct as of July 2023.

Scholarships and financial assistance

Scholarships

LASALLE offers scholarships in recognition of outstanding academic and artistic achievements and leadership qualities. Applications for scholarships open from March to May for new students. Please refer to www.lasalle.edu.sg for more information.

Financial assistance

LASALLE is committed to providing a quality education for all our students and ensuring that no deserving student is denied admission because of financial difficulty. Financial assistance schemes, grants and loans are available to help meet a portion of the educational expenses of disadvantaged students. Application for financial assistance opens from March to May for new students. Please refer to www.lasalle.edu.sg for more information.

Government loan scheme

Students who are Singapore Citizens or Singapore Permanent Residents and on Tuition Grant are eligible to apply for Tuition Fee Loan of up to 90% (degree) or 75% (diploma) of the programme fees. Application opens in October each year. Please contact the Division of Finance (finance@lasalle.edu.sg) for more details.

Refund policy

Refund for withdrawal due to non-delivery of course

The College will notify the student within three (3) working days upon knowledge of any of the following:

1. It does not commence the course on the course commencement date.
2. It terminates the course before the course commencement date.
3. It does not complete the course by the course completion date.
4. It terminates the course before the course completion date.
5. It has not ensured that the student meets the course entry or matriculation requirement as set by the organisation within any stipulated timeline set by the College.
6. The Student's Pass application is rejected by Immigration and Checkpoints Authority (ICA).

The student should be informed in writing of alternative study arrangements (if any), and also be entitled to a refund of the entire course fees and miscellaneous fees already paid should the student decide to withdraw, within seven (7) working days of the above notice.

Refund for withdrawal due to other reasons

If the student withdraws from the course for any reason other than those stated above, the College will, within seven (7) working days of receiving the student's written notice of withdrawal, refund to the student an amount based on the refund table.

Refund during cooling-off period

The College will provide the student with a cooling-off period of seven (7) working days after the date that the contract has been signed by both parties. The student will be refunded the highest percentage (stated in the refund table) of the fees already paid if the student submits a written notice of withdrawal to the College within the cooling-off period, regardless of whether the student has started the course or not.

Refund table

| If student's written notice of withdrawal is received                 | % of the aggregate amount of the fees paid |
|---|--|
| More than 14 days before the course commencement date                 | 90%  |
| Before, but not more than 14 days before the course commencement date | 85%  |
| After, but not more than 1 day after the course commencement date     | 85%  |
| More than 1 day after the course commencement date                    | 0%   |
