

Source: The Straits Times © SPH Media Limited.
5 January 2023, Page 3
Permission required for reproduction

ARTWALK FESTIVAL

Katong-Joo Chiat and Little India will have four new murals by artists Laurie Maravilla, Mural Lingo, Mohammed Zulkarnaen Othman and Sophia Ong. These are part of the Artwalk 2023 arts festival that includes street performances, workshops and dinner theatre. It is jointly organised by Lasalle College of the Arts and the Singapore Tourism Board, with the support of the Little India Shopkeepers and Heritage Association.

Curator Milenko Prvacki, a senior fellow at Lasalle, says: "Artwalk aims to tell the stories of our local heritage through multisensory art experiences to engage all of one's senses."

The festival will centre on the theme, Echo – how culture, heritage and traditions reverberate in all directions like sound waves.

"The metaphor of an echo reminds us that our culture is in constant flux," adds Prvacki.

Where: Various locations in Katong-Joo Chiat and Little India

When: Friday to Jan 15, various times

Info: For admissions details and programme listings, go to artwalkfest.sg

A dancer performing and leaving imprints on a mural in Liminal States by Lasalle College of the Arts diploma in dance students for Artwalk 2023, part of Singapore Art Week 2023. PHOTO: LASALLE COLLEGE OF THE ARTS

